2. SENTENCES FOR TRINITY IX

Introductory Sentence

It is required of steward that they be found trustworthy.

1 Corinthians. 4:2.

Collect for the Week:

Father of mankind, who gave Your only-begotten Son to take upon Himself the form of a servant and to be obedient even to death on a cross: give us the same mind that was in Christ Jesus, that sharing His humility, we may come to be with Him in His glory; who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, One God, now and forever.

Post Communion Sentence

The mind of sinful man is death, but the mind controlled by the Spirit is life and peace. Romans 8:6.

TOWARDS THE NEW CATHEDRAL

THE COLLECT:

Heavenly Father we acknowledge the fact that without You, we can do nothing, for except You build, those who are building are doing it in vain. Empower us to build to Your glory and honour O Lord. Provide for us unto overflowing and over abundance. Make way where there seems to be none, silence every spirit of Sanballat and Tobiah and fill us with the anointing of Zerubbabel unto a glorious timely and speedy completion for with You there is no abandoned project. All of these and many more mercies and grace we ask for in the mighty name of Jesus Christ our Lord and Saviour. Amen.

3. LET THERE BE PEACE (ADAPTED)

Let there be PEACE shared among us
Let there be Peace in our hearts

5. THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK SUNDAY, 1ST AUGUST, 2021

THEME: LEADERS AND FOLLOWERS IN THE CHURCH
READINGS: PSALM 119:81-96; PROVERBS 7:7-10
1 PETER 5:1-11; MATTHEW 18:1-16.

A. INTRODUCTION

The term leadership is defined as “the ability to lead; an act or instance of leading; guidance; direction.” Church leadership is about how we behave, communicate and manage others under God. This word is used in many forms to describe countless things, but it is ultimately the act of leading a group of people in a shared direction. To be considered a leader, you have to have people who will follow you. And, successful professionals and leaders demonstrate leadership characteristics even while continuing on their own personal development journey. They are life learners and take pride in developing others. Managing a church staff and the congregation requires managers and leaders who can influence how work gets accomplished. The rise and fall of the church or any organization lies upon the shoulder of the leader. However, effective church leaders have certain traits and characteristics that affect their interactions with others.

B. CHURCH LEADERSHIP TRAITS

1. Leaders are Persons of Influence: Leaders influence others to get things done. They help others see what needs to be done and then show them the path forward. Positive influence is what we're going for. Leaders often influence us even though we may not be aware of it.

2. They are Big Picture Thinkers: Leaders are big picture thinkers and can rise above the day-to-day and see things from a broad perspective. They have the ability to get people excited about where they're going and how to get there. Employees need to get out of their cubes and hear stories of how their work impacts those whom the church is reaching.

3. They Believe the Best in People: Influential leaders always give others the benefit of the doubt (“a favorable judgment given in the absence of full evidence”) and believe the best in people. A true leader first gathers all the facts before drawing final conclusions.

4. Others See Them as Credible: There have been so many sad examples of leaders who have fallen when they live double lives and their integrity is not consistent in every area of their lives. A leader's personal life needs to be consistent with his/her professional life. He/she should be the same – no matter who is around. Followers can quickly recognize when a leader's actions do not line up with his/her speech. Leaders have to maintain credibility with the people they lead. This means they do what they say, say what they mean, and are able to communicate honestly with others.

5. They are Teachers and Mentors: Leaders are gifted teachers and love to help others develop. They model leadership principles; help others to be credible people; identify follower's growth opportunities; coach others on personal development; are not afraid of delegating responsibility and enjoy seeing others grow professionally. Leaders are not threatened by people who are smarter than they are and take pleasure in seeing others succeed. Pulling people up behind us is how we all grow

6. They are Master Delegators: Leaders develop others and learn to delegate responsibilities. This is done by allowing others to make mistakes and helping them learn from those mistakes. We learn best from making mistakes, and allowing others to gain knowledge from their own mistakes is an invaluable lesson. All of us have had a starting point in our professional development, and allowing others to learn through experiences helps them grow professionally and gain self confidence.

7. They Empower Others: Leaders empower others and recognize that making front-line decisions and taking risks are part of the development and learning process. People need to be comfortable taking risks, making decisions, and learning from their mistakes. Establishing boundaries and allowing others to test decision-making skills and problem-solving not only helps with employee and followers development but also takes the bottleneck out of addressing issues. It is very much like parenting: sometimes you need to allow your kids to fall down and pick themselves back up. That is how they learn.

8. They are Team Players: Leaders are team players and work well with others to get things done. They operate out of a win-win philosophy and help others and followers to collaborate and come to agreement in tasks. Church leaders are skilled at managing team dynamics and developing team cohesiveness. They do this by holding team members accountable for their actions and keeping them focused on the team goal.

9. They Celebrate Successes: Effective leaders are able to recognize success and help their team and followers celebrate those successes. This is a critical component in team function and development. Rewarding performance, showing employees appreciation and celebrating successes helps to keep team members engaged. Celebrating even small successes provides the motivation and fuel to go after the bigger targets. No success is too small to celebrate and can be as simple as a public acknowledgement of a job well done!

10. They Have Balanced Priorities: Leaders have a good understanding of their personal priorities and are able to keep all aspects of their lives balanced. They understand the importance of setting personal boundaries and giving family as much focus and attention as their professional responsibilities. They unapologetically recognize that leadership is a marathon and not a sprint, and they understand the importance of pacing themselves so they don't run out of gas before the race is complete.

11. They Demonstrate Ethics and Integrity in all practices: The success of any ministry is built on the trust of its congregants, volunteers and general public. The best way to gain that trust is to demonstrate ethics and integrity in church operations, not because of legal requirements, but because it is the right thing to do. The integrity of any organization affects all customer groups and every area of business operations which is why incorporating ethics and integrity into the core fabric of the ministry is critical. Churches that operate with integrity do so intentionally and make it part of their culture and everyday practices.

13. They Follow Code-of-Conduct: The church board should determine the boundaries for ethical behaviors.

14. They Have Sense of Management Practices: Management practices are the underlying foundation for organizational integrity, whether it is a commitment to serving the members or managing employment practices.

C. CONCLUSION

A church's reputation can be tarnished by unresolved issues and followers observe how leadership responds to issues and follows up on promises made. Employees and congregants who trust management are more engaged and supportive of ministry efforts. Creating a culture of strong leaders is important because it affects the church's ability to meet goals and achieve strategy. Church leaders are responsible for setting the standard for behavior while preparing others for greater responsibility. A true leader is marked by their ability to demonstrate ethical and Christian behaviors while helping others maximize their potential.

HYMN FOR DOXOLOGY - (I.O.M 309 TRANSLATED)

1. My spirit on Thy care,
Blest Saviour, I recline;
Thou wilt not leave me to despair,
For Thou art love divine.
2. In Thee I place my trust,
On Thee I calmly rest;
I know Thee good, I know Thee just,
And count Thy choice the best.
3. Whate'er events betide,
Thy will they all perform:
Safe in Thy breast my head I hide,
Nor fear the coming storm.
4. Let good or ill befall,
It must be good for me;
Secure of having Thee in all,
Of having all in Thee. Amen.
