God is love, he who dwell in love is dwelling in God, and God in Him. 1 John 4:16b.

Collects for the Week:

Merciful God, You have prepared for those who love You such good things as pass our understanding; pour into our hearts such love towards You that, loving You above all else, we may obtain Your promises which exceed all that we can desire; through Jesus through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Lord of all power and might, the author and giver of all good things: grant in our hearts the love of Your name, increase in us true religion, nourish in us all goodness, and of Your great mercy keep us in the same; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

4. THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK
SUNDAY, 5TH OCTOBER, 2025

THEME: LOVING GOD ABOVE ALL ELSE

READING: PSALM 63; DEUTERONOMY 6:3-9;
1 JOHN 4:18-5:5; MATT. 22:34-40.

The call to love God with all our being is a fundamental truth, a cornerstone of our faith. It's not a mere suggestion, but the foundation upon which our lives are built. This love should touch every facet of our existence, guiding our thoughts, influencing our actions, and colouring our relationships. Let's delve into the depths of this profound commandment and explore its implications.

Cultivating a passionate love for God requires a conscious effort, a dedication that permeates our daily lives. It begins with prioritizing God above all else, as Jesus taught in Matthew 6:33, "But seek first his kingdom and his righteousness, and all these things will be given to you as well." This means making a fundamental shift in our perspective, consciously choosing God's will over our own desires, even when faced with difficult choices. Consider the professional who might turn down a lucrative opportunity if it compromises their values, choosing integrity over financial gain (Proverbs 16:8). Or, think of the individual who chooses to forgive someone who has caused them pain, reflecting the grace they've received (Ephesians 4:32). In our daily lives, this means making time for prayer (Philippians 4:6), reading scripture (Psalm 119:105), and seeking God's guidance in every decision, big or small (Proverbs 3:5-6).

Our love for God is not merely a feeling; it's actively demonstrated through our actions. Obedience is the tangible expression of our love, as Jesus says in John 14:15, "If you love me, keep my commandments." The example of Abraham, willing to offer his beloved son Isaac (Genesis 22:1-14), is a powerful testament to obedience born from love. He trusted God's plan, even when it seemed incomprehensible, showing the depth of his love and trust.

If we truly love God, that love will naturally extend to our interactions with others. We become channels of His love, grace, and compassion. This is reflected in forgiveness, as we forgive others as God has forgiven us (Colossians 3:13). It's seen in generosity, sharing our time, talents, and resources to help those in need (2 Corinthians 9:6-8). It's also evident in kindness and compassion, treating others with empathy and understanding, reflecting God's character (1 Peter 3:8-9).

We must also be vigilant in guarding against idolatry, as Exodus 20:3 warns, "You shall have no other gods before me." Idolatry isn't simply worshipping statues; it's allowing anything to take God's place in our hearts.

The blessings of loving God are abundant. When we prioritize Him, He works all things for our good (Romans 8:28). A close relationship with God leads to answered prayers (John 15:7). Trusting in Him casts out fear (1 John 4:18), and a crown of life awaits those who love Him steadfastly (James 1:12).

In conclusion, loving God above all else is not just a religious duty; it's a transformative journey. It changes our perspective, shapes our character, and enriches our relationships. When God is the center of our lives, obedience becomes a joy, and love for others flows naturally.
